Lisa L. Ossian describes Iowa's particular rural dilemmas evoking through anecdotes and examples the economic, nutritional, familial, cultural, industrial, criminal, legal, and political challenges that engaged the people of the state. The following chapters analyze life during the early depression years between 1929 and 1933, encouraging resourcefulness rather than passivity, creativity rather than resignation, and community rather than hopelessness. Of particular interest is the role of women within the rural landscape as much of the increased daily work fell to farm women during this time while the women addressed this work simply as making do. Ossian shows that their resourcefulness entailed complex planning essential for families' emotional and physical health. Ossian's epilogue takes readers into the Iowa of today dominated by industrial agriculture and asks the reader to consider if this model that stemmed from depression era innovation is sustainable. Her rich rural history not only helps readers understand the particular forces at work that shaped the social and physical landscape of the past but also traces how these landscapes have continued in various forms for almost eighty years into this century.

course test books and class notes this is all you need to pass the middle proterozoic midcontinent rift system mrs of north america is a failed rift that formed in response to region wide stresses about 1 100 ma in iowa the mrs is buried beneath 2 200 3 500 ft of paleozoic and mesozoic sedimentary rocks and quaternary glaciogenic deposits an extremely large volume of sediments was deposited within basins associated with the rift at several stages during its development although the uplift of a rift axial horst resulted in the erosional removal of most of these clastic rocks from the central region of the mrs in iowa thick sequences are preserved in a series of horst bounding basins recent studies incorporating petrographic analysis geophysical modeling and other analytical procedures have led to the establishment of a preliminary stratigraphy for these clastic rocks and interpretations of basin geometries this information has allowed the refinement of existing theories and history of mrs formation in iowa additionally drill samples previously interpreted as indicating the existence of early paleozoic basins overlying the proterozoic mrs basins were re examined samples previously interpreted as deep lying paleozoic rocks are now known to have caved from upper levels of the drillhole and were out of stratigraphic position no deep paleozoic basins exist in this area these investigations led to the development of petrographic parameters useful in differentiating the proterozoic mrs red clastics from paleozoic clastic rocks having similar lithologies
