The Tapez Scroll 2022-08-30

Underwater scientists and adventurers Jake Cohen and Angie Cherubini trace clues in an ancient crumbling scroll to locate the Ark of the Covenant somewhere deep in the Red Sea. Pax Romana forces and two kingdom navies are on their heels hoping that they will lead them to the priceless centerpiece of Judaism. The Antichrist’s diabolical plan is ready to exterminate all Jews in the world as his false peace draws to a close. The two adventurers have no intention of letting the Ark of God be used for the Antichrist’s blasphemous stand in Jerusalem. The Third Temple. Angie’s billionaire father backs a daring rescue mission into the heart of the Persian kingdom where the couple and their team confound the Antichrist’s false prophet known to the world as Islam’s Caliph and anticipated Twelfth Imam. The rescue team’s daring aerial escape from downtown Tehran stretches the wildest imagination as speechless onlookers capture it all on video. Fierce bravery and zeal prompt them to risk all for the salvation of their Jewish brethren. Out of this a shadowy resistance force is born as husband and wife Jake and Angie pledge to spend their inherited fortune and their earthly lives if necessary to rescue a remnant of Jews from the greatest holocaust the world has ever seen. They call themselves the Remnant Rescue.

Critical Hours 2018-04-03

A misread map, a sudden storm, a forgotten headlamp, and suddenly a leisurely hike turns into a treacherous endeavor in the past decade. Inexpensive but sophisticated navigation devices and mobile phones have led to alarming levels of overconfidence on the trail. Adding to this worrisome trend, the increasing popularity of ventures into mountainous terrain has led hikers seeking solitude or an adrenaline rush into increasingly remote or risky forays. Sandy Stott, the accidents editor at the Journal of the Appalachian Mountain Club delivers both a history and a celebration of the search and rescue workers who save countless lives in the White Mountains along with a plea for us not to take their steadfastness and bravery for granted. Filled with tales of astonishing courage and sobering tragedy, Critical Hours will appeal to outdoor enthusiasts and armchair adventurers alike.

Advances in anti-cancer chemotherapy over recent years have led to improved efficacy in curing or controlling many cancers, some chemotherapy-related side effects are well recognized and include nausea, vomiting, bone marrow suppression, peripheral neuropathy, cardiovascular and skeletal muscle dysfunction, and renal impairment. However, it is becoming clearer that some chemotherapy-related adverse effects may persist even in long-term cancer survivors. Problems such as cognitive, cardiovascular, and gastrointestinal dysfunction, and neuropathy may lead to substantial long-term morbidity despite improvements in treatments to counteract acute chemotherapy-induced adverse effects. They are often incompletely effective. Furthermore, countermeasures for some acute side effects and many potential longer-term sequelae of anti-cancer chemotherapy have not been developed. Thus, new insights into prevalence and mechanisms of cancer chemotherapy-related side effects are needed, and new approaches to improving tolerance and reduce sequelae of cancer chemotherapy are urgently needed. The present research topic focuses on adverse effects and sequelae of chemotherapy and strategies to counteract them.
